

The Challenge of Digitally Preserving Organisational Knowledge

Date: Thursday 16 August 2018
 Breakfast Seminar: 7.30 – 09.45
 Venue: Ground Floor Seminar Room
 CSU 10-12 Brisbane Avenue
 Barton ACT 2600
 RSVP by 10 August 2018 to marketing.team@fujixerox.com

Fuji Xerox Document Management Solutions in conjunction with AuSKM, IIM and CSU invite you to attend our Breakfast Seminar on “The Challenge of Digitally Preserving Organisational Knowledge”. Book early to avoid missing out.

Hear three different perspectives from David Williams, Dr Asim Qayyum and Clint Watling who are all respected thought leaders within their fields. This free seminar is an opportunity to hear how to approach one of the biggest challenges facing all organisations' today and to network with a range of other interested people.

We invite all attendees to be on site at 7.30am, for a light breakfast, with an 8.00am start.

Agenda

John Cox, Business Development Manager ACT
 8.00 – Welcome and introduction

David Williams, President AuSKM and IIM Director

8.05 – Organisational use of Data, Information, Knowledge & Wisdom + Q&A

Dr Asim Qayyum – Lecturer, School of Information Studies at CSU & IIM Director

8.30 – The Challenges of Digital Preservation + Q&A

Clint Watling, Line of Business Manager – BPO Services

9.00 – Case Studies on Digital Preservation + Q&A

John Cox, Business Development Manager ACT
 9.30 - Thanks

Networking

9.35 – Event closes 9.45

AuSKM

The Australian Society for Knowledge Management

Charles Sturt University